Report 2ml

October 15, 1962

Memorandum

To: Director

From: Superintendent, Yellowstone

Subject: Monthly Narrative Report for August 1962

General

Weather Thunderstorms were common during the first two-thirds of the month. Snow appeared on the higher peaks later in the month, with some frost in the lower valleys.

Enough precipitation fell to prevent fire danger from becoming critical.

A mild tornado was observed coming off Mirror Plateau on August 22. Many trees were blown down and rough lake conditions existed.

The Beartooth Highway was closed on the 28th due to snow and poor visibility.

Increase or Decrease in Travel A total of 592,606 visitors were recorded during the month, an increase of 30% above August 1961. Travel dropped during the last few days of the month due to adverse weather and opening of many schools throughout the country on August 27. On August 24, 1,610,094 visitors had entered the Park this season exceeding the all-time travel year of 1957. According to the latest figures, Park travel is 24.8 per cent ahead of last year, and the month of August to date has shown the remarkable increase of 32.9 per cent. Travel to and from the Seattle World's Fair has contributed to the record-breaking travel.

On Monday, August 20, the season's travel totalled 1,533,307, surpassing last year's total of 1,528,088. Daily travel during August through the 21st, has averaged just over 20,000 visitors per day.

REPLY REFER TO:

Range On August 31, Mr. Bergstrom, under contract through the University of Wyoming's Biological Station at Jackson to inventory and set up range study plots in connection with the new 5-acre exclosures, had completed his work.

The Junction Butte and Tower Fall new range exclosures were located. By August 31 four new 5-acre exclosures had been completed by the construction crews and the fifth, Tower Fall, was under construction.

Visitors Former Director of the National Park Service, Horace M. Albright, August 22-31.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund B. Rogers, former Superintendent of Yellowstone, visited friends here the week of August 27.

Distinguished Visitor Col. John H. Glenn and family visited the Park on August 21. Superintendent Garrison, who met them at West Thumb, accompanied them on the southern loop, visiting Old Faithful, Norris, Canyon and Lake. Superintendent Garrison reported that Col. Glenn and his family are wonderful people, who accept their world fame modestly but straighforwardly. The Colonel was quickly recognized by visitors as they toured the Park and he graciously responded to all requests for autographs and photos. He was extremely interested in Park operations, ready with questions about policies and standards and sympathetic to the Service's objectives.

Martin Litton, photographer for Sunset Magazine, arrived August 23 for about a month's stay. He and his group will do a camping story, with photographs, about Yellowstone.

Inspections Regional Forester Gynn, Forestry Technician Reeves, and Park Forester Myers, in company with U. S. Forest Service officials from the Region One, office in Missoula, made an inspection of the Blister Rust Control areas in the Park, Blister Rust and Commandra Rust test plots in the Custer National Forest and in Yellowstone on August 6-10.

A group of eleven U. S. Forest Service officials were accompanied on a show-me trip from the Northeast Entrance to Mammoth on the 16th.

Inspections were made by the following officials from the Midwest Regional Office: George H. Baggley, Assistant Regional Director, August 2-4; Chester Brown, Recreational Resources, August 19; Frank Childs, Chief of Ranger Services, August 22; Elbert Smith, Chief of Concessions Management, August 27; and Leroy Brown, Chief, Programs Coordinator, August 13-18. From the Washington Office: Stanford Young, Division of Recreation Resource Planning, Range On August 31, Dr. Dougherty, under contract through the University of Wyoming's Biological Station at Jackson to investigate and set up range study plots in connection with the new 5-acre enclosures, had completed his work.

The Junction Butte and Tower Fall area range enclosures were located. By August 31 four new 5-acre enclosures had been completed by the construction crews and the fifth, Tower Fall, was under construction.

Visitors Former Director of the National Park Service, George M. Albright, August 22-23.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Rogers, former Superintendent of Yellowstone, visited friends here the week of August 27.

Distinguished Visitor Col. John H. Glenn and family visited the Park on August 31. Superintendent Garrison, who was shown at West Thumb, accompanied them on the southern loop, visiting Old Faithful, Norris, Canyon and Lake. Superintendent Garrison reported that Col. Glenn and his family are wonderful people, who accept their world fame modestly but straightforwardly. The Colonel was quickly recognized by visitors as they toured the East and he graciously responded to all requests for autographs and photos. He was extremely interested in Park operations, and with questions about policies and standards and applicable to the Service's objectives.

Martin Litton, photographer for Sunset Magazine, arrived August 31 for about a month's stay. He and his group will do a Yellowstone story, with photographs, about Yellowstone.

Inspections Regional Forester Spaw, Forestry Technician Hansen, and Park Forester Myers, in company with U. S. Forest Service officials from the Region Nine, office in Missoula, made an inspection of the Blister Rust Control Camp in the Park, Blister Rust and Commodore Rust test plots in the Custer National Forest and in Yellowstone on August 8-10.

A group of eleven U. S. Forest Service officials were accompanied on a shoe-on trip from the Northeast Entrance to Mammoth on the 14th.

Inspections were made by the Colorado Officials from the Midwest Regional Office: George R. Douglas, Resistant Regional Director, August 2-4; Chester Brown, Recreational Cadaster, August 13; Frank Childs, Chief of Lands Services, August 21; Albert Smith, Chief of Concessions Management, August 27; and Larry Brown, Chief, Progress Coordinator, August 13-16. From the Washington Office: Stanford Young, Division of Recreation Resources Planning.

August 10-11; and from WODC, Ralph McFadden, Electronics Engineer, August 12-16.

Frank Childs, Regional Chief of Ranger Activities arrived August 20 for a week's stay. Retiring in September, this will be Mr. Child's last official visit to Yellowstone. In 1929 Frank entered the Service as a Park Ranger on the Yellowstone staff.

USGA Two representative of the U. S. Geological Survey gathered information on gravity measurements in the Lake area on August 20.

Maps The Air National Guard of Battle Creek, Michigan, made a final flight in August to get the remaining aerial photos of the northern Yellowstone and should deliver a mosaic and three prints of each photo by the end of September. This is the biggest operation of this kind they have ever undertaken.

Operations

Ranger Activities All entrance stations, Lake, Canyon and headquarters maintained 24-hour operation during August.

In order to handle the increase of visitors, rangers have been working six days per week for the first three weeks in August. A total of 323 hours of uncompensated overtime was reported worked by rangers of the South District.

Law Enforcement A total of 99 persons were tried before the U. S. Commissioner during the month, as compared to 83 persons during August 1961. Fines totaling $1,946 were levied by the Court, of which $130.00 were suspended.

U. S. Attorney, Robert N. Chaffin, of Cheyenne, Wyoming, was in the Park August 22-24 for the purpose of reviewing problems relating to investigation of offenses and prosecution of cases in the U. S. Commissioner's Court. Mr. Chaffin visited each of the three districts and discussed enforcement problems with Superintendent Garrison and his staff. The anticipated object of this visit is the formulation of enforcement guidelines which will provide uniform protection and safety of persons and property.

Campgrounds The campgrounds in the Park were full to overcrowded during the earlier period of the month, but with the slump in travel during the last few days, there was adequate room.

Back country use continued to be excellent. A total of 87 people visited the Thorofare area. Shoshone Lake recorded 222 people, and Heart Lake showed visits from 235 individuals. A total of 962 visitors made other hiking-fishing trips into the more remote areas.

Complaints Complaints were received at all stations about the conditions of the West Thumb-Lake road which is under construction. Many written complaints have been received concerning facilities of the Yellowstone Park Company.
